presents the fifty-first Ellwoodian

We owe responsibility to our future.

I am being driven forward
Into an unknown land.
The pass grows steeper,
The air colder and sharper.
A wind from my unknown goal
Stirs the strings of expectation.

Still the question:
Shall I ever get there?
There where life resounds,
A clear pure note
In the silence.
— Dag Hammarskjold —

We are made wise not by the recollections of our past, but by the responsibilities of our future.

Enthusiasm

Let us join the ages.

The tides flow
The sun rises and sets.
The seasons come and go.
The moon and the stars
light the way,
for each of us.

What we plant today
Will root and grow.

Let us plant a seed,
Love and protect it.
Feed and warm it.

Surely a tree will rise to take its place in the sun.

Let us plant today
the seeds which will be the trees of us . . .

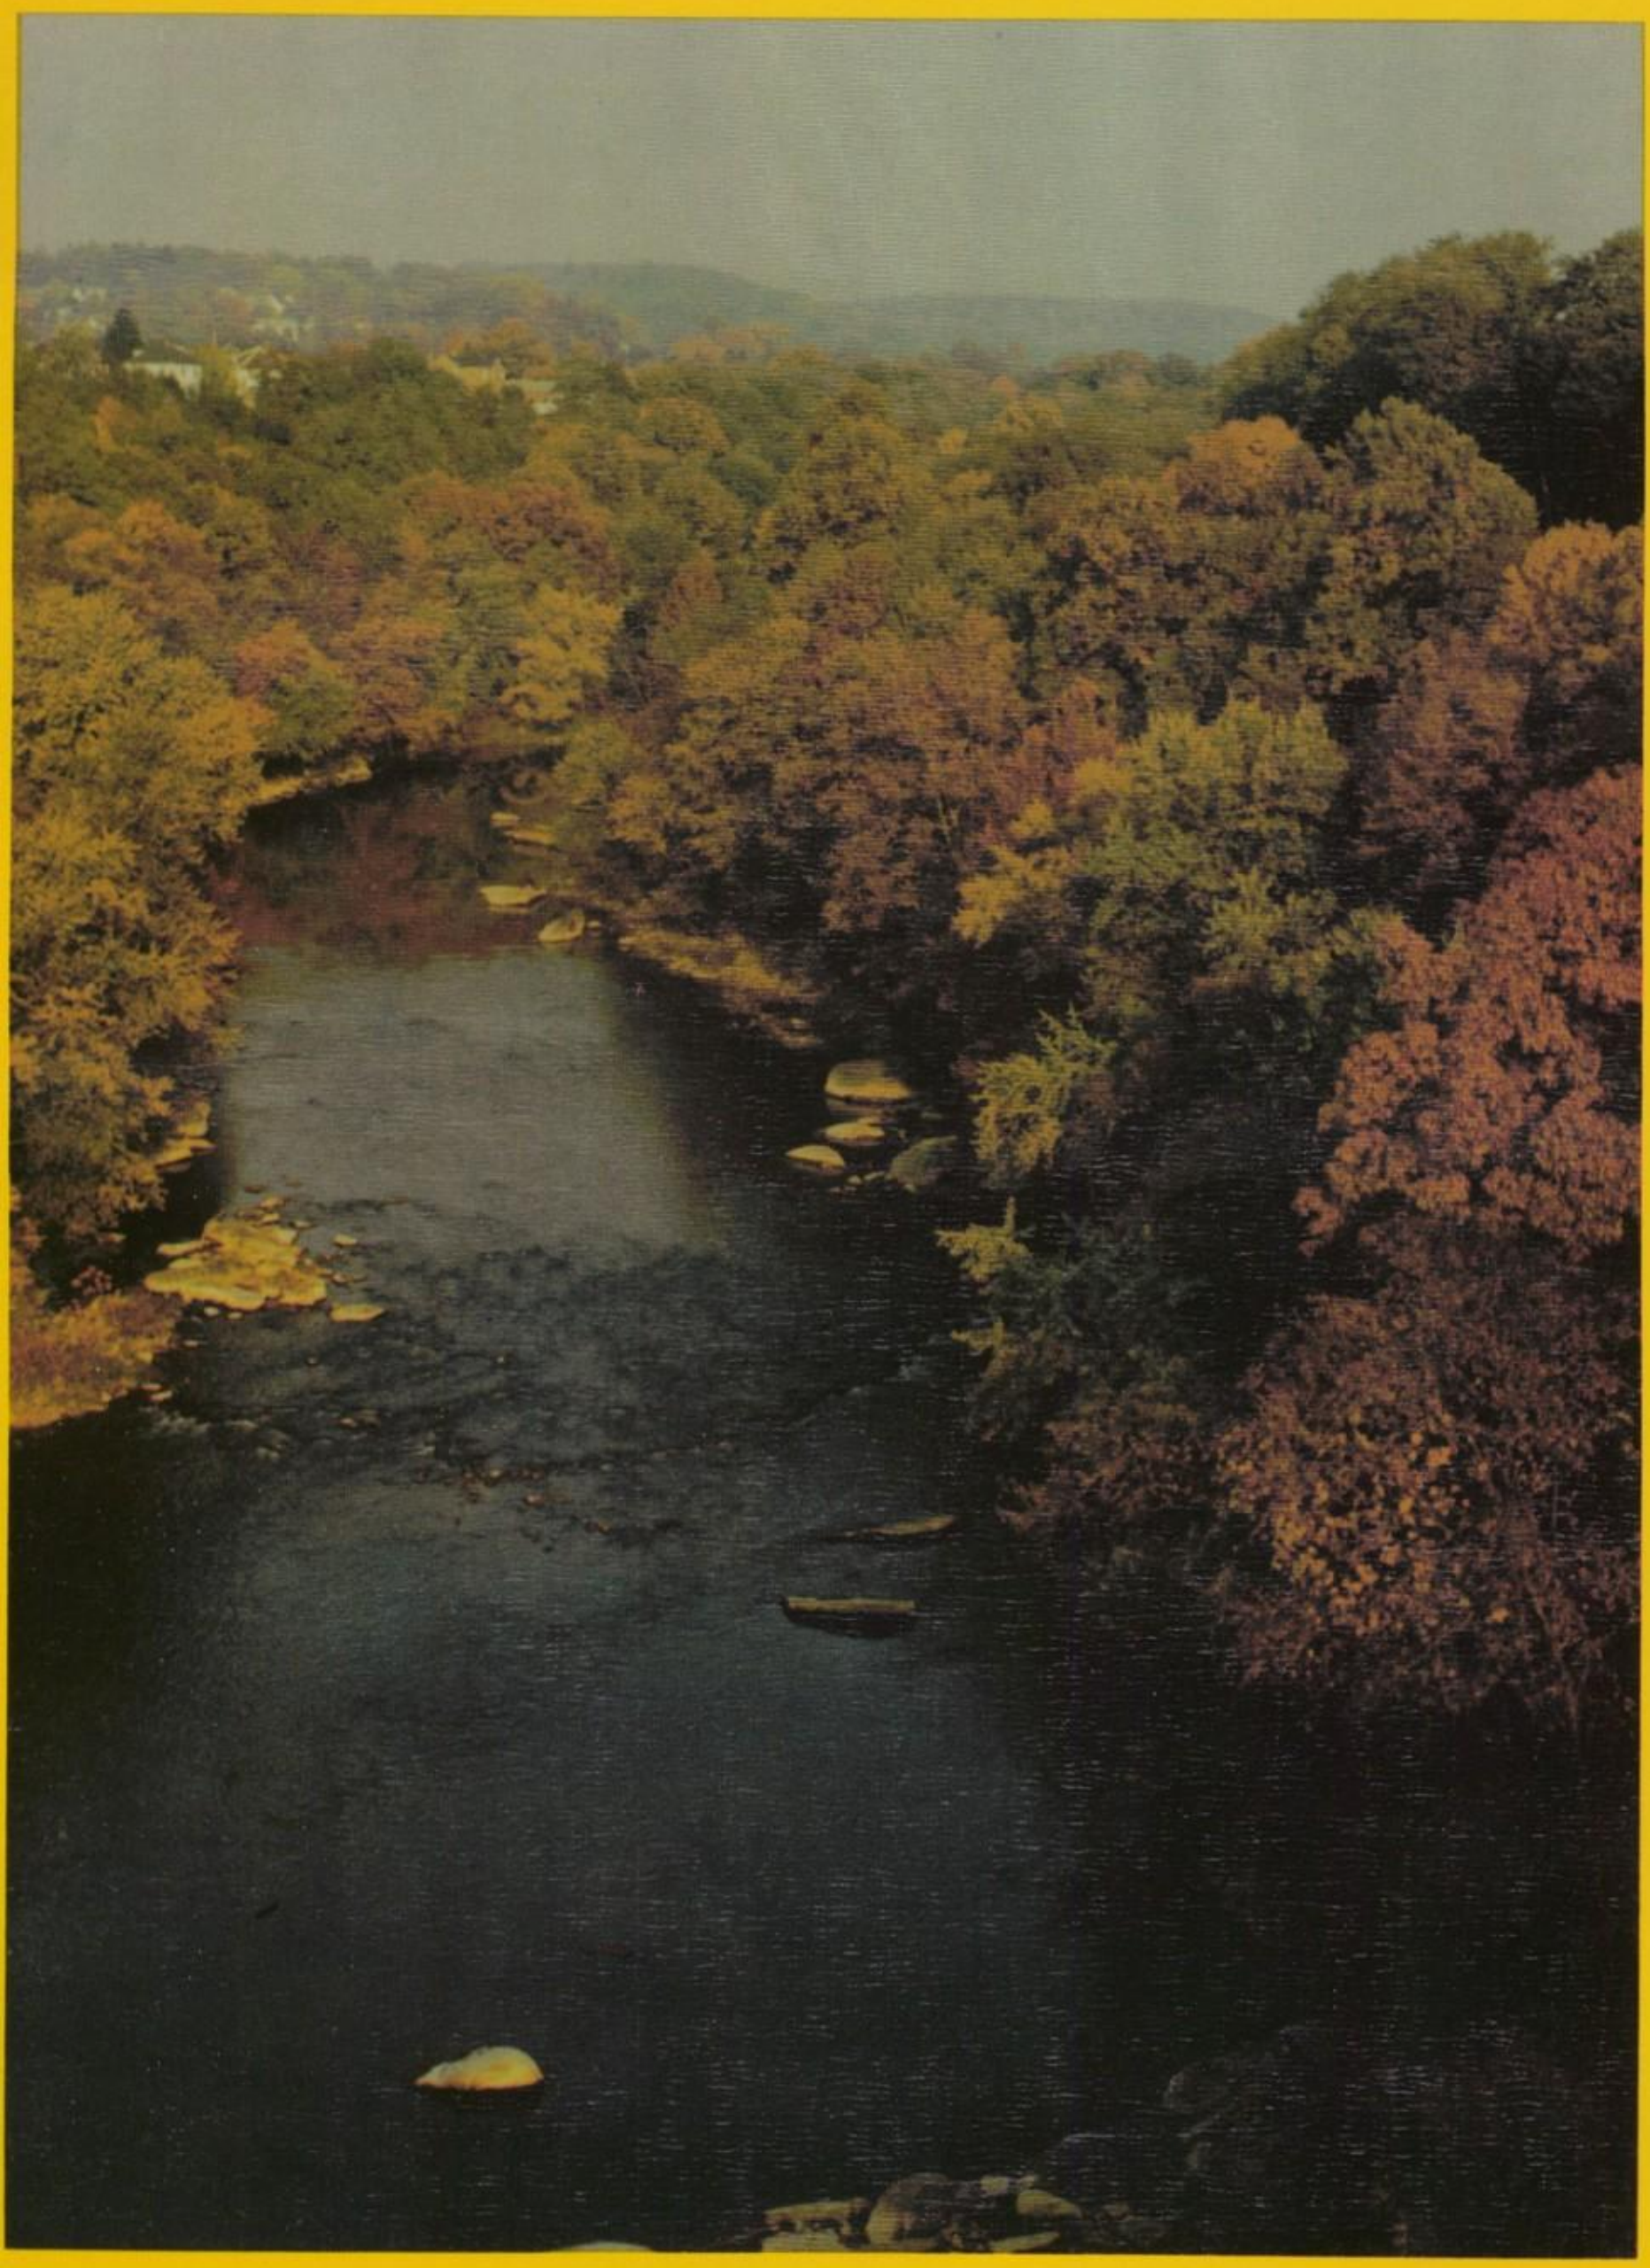
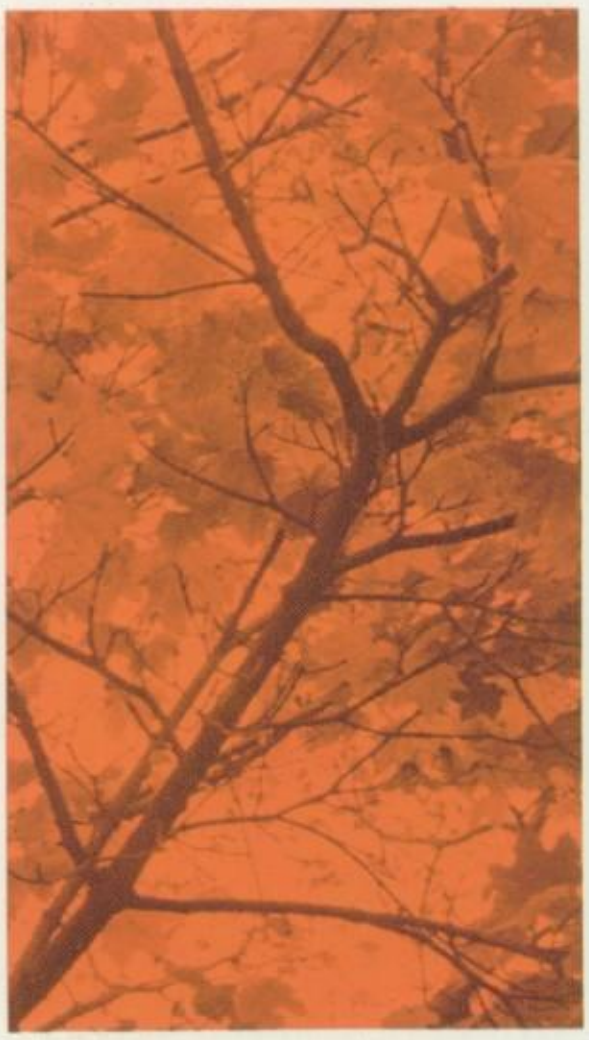
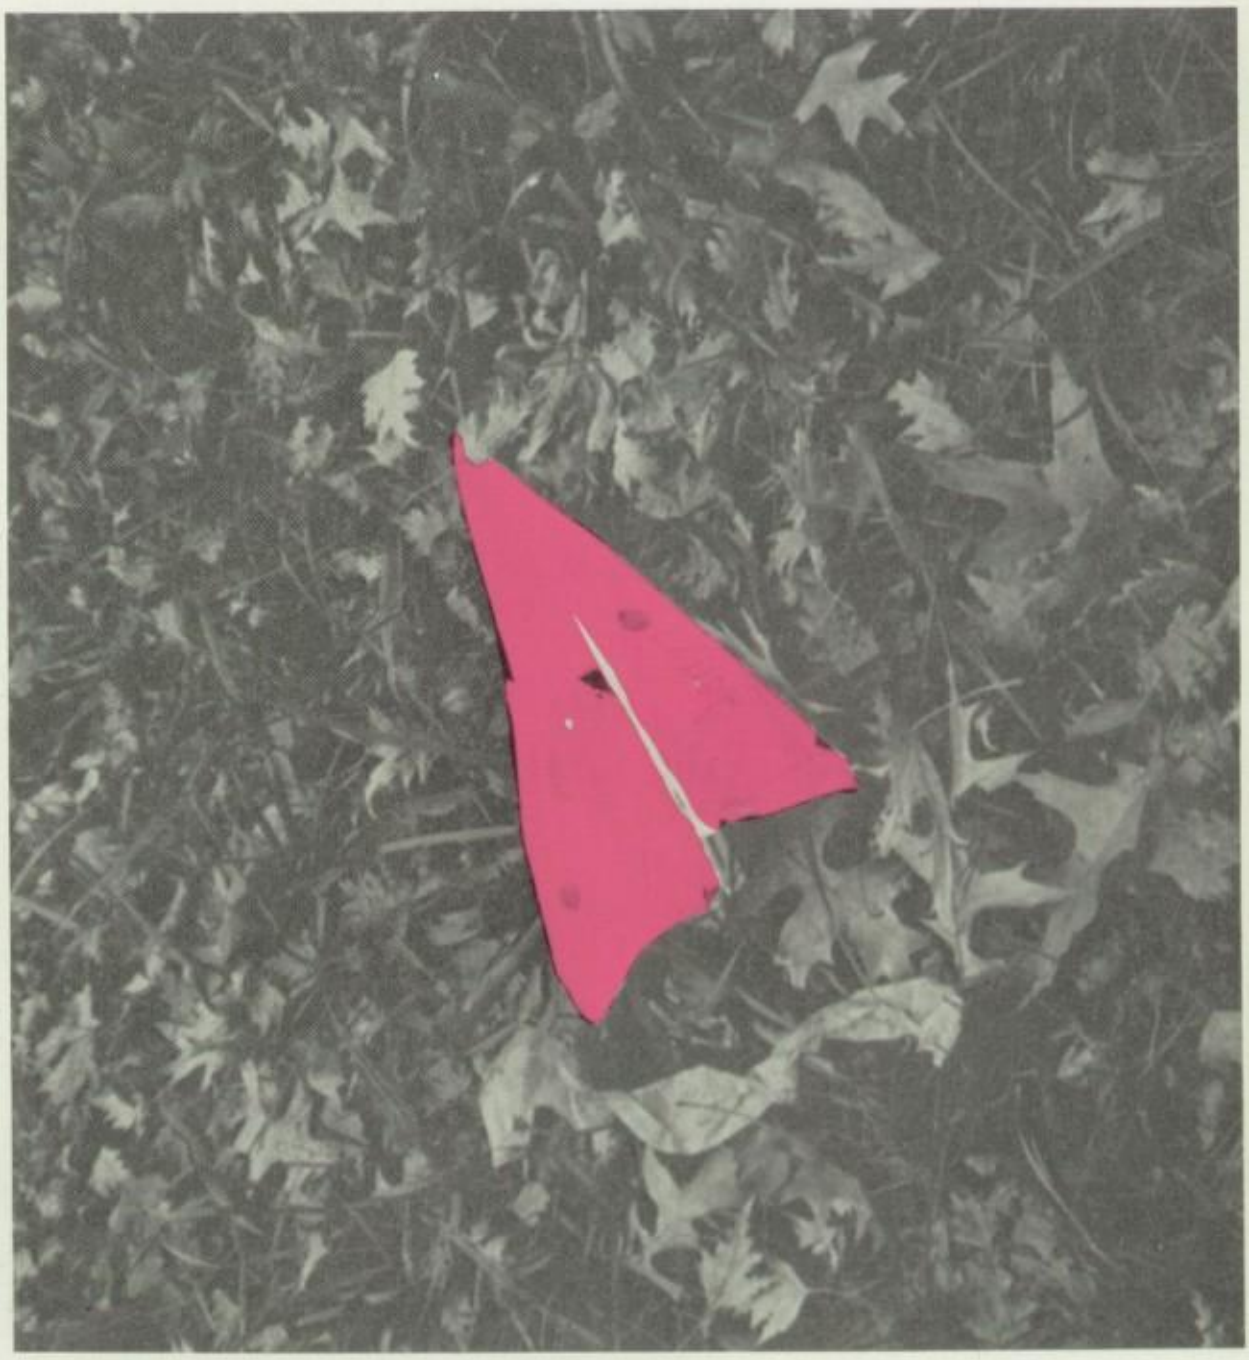
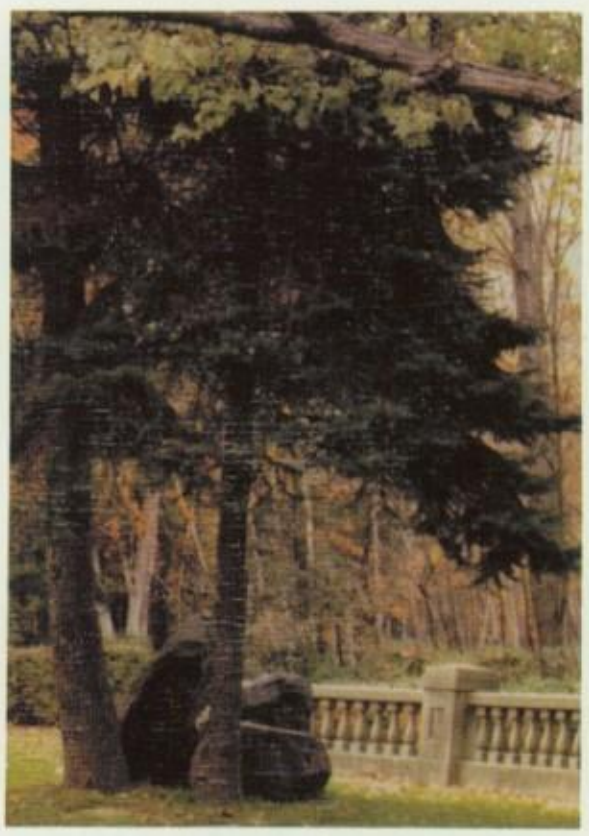
Leonard Nimoy



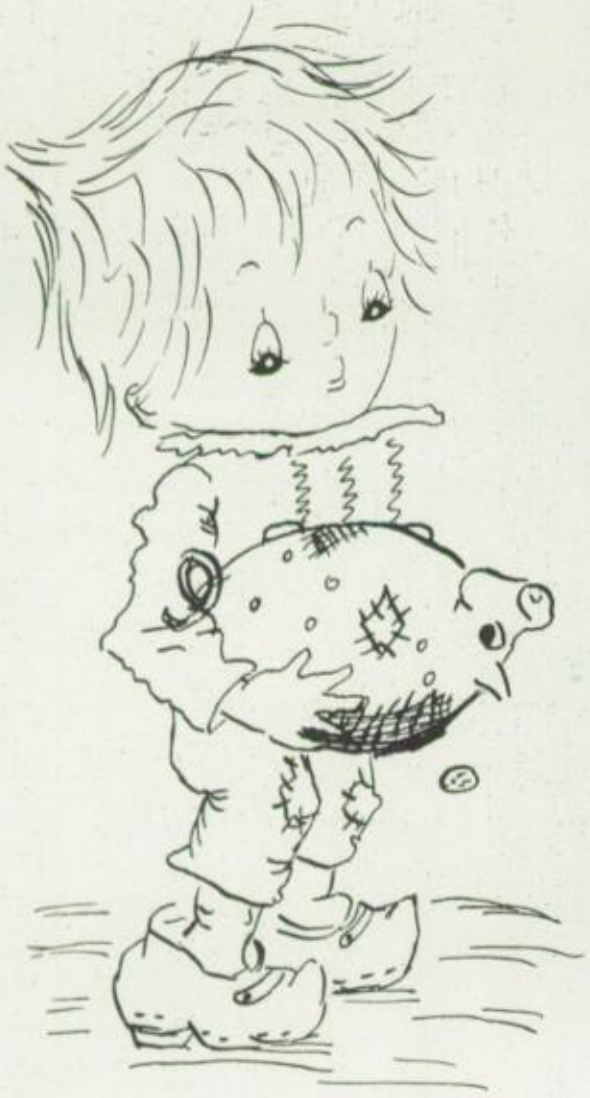
Representing Lincoln High School in the Lawrence County Junior Miss were two very talented girls; Leigh Ann Puzz and Debbie McCloskey. The pagaent, held at Shenago High School on September 19, 1974, was sponsored by the New Castle Jaycees. Girls representing the high schools in Lawrence County participated in the event. Leigh Ann delighted the audience with her dancing ability, while Debbie entertained with her singing. Leigh Ann won the Physical Fitness award, and Debbie the Congeniality award and the pagaent. Lincoln High School is proud of both of these girls.

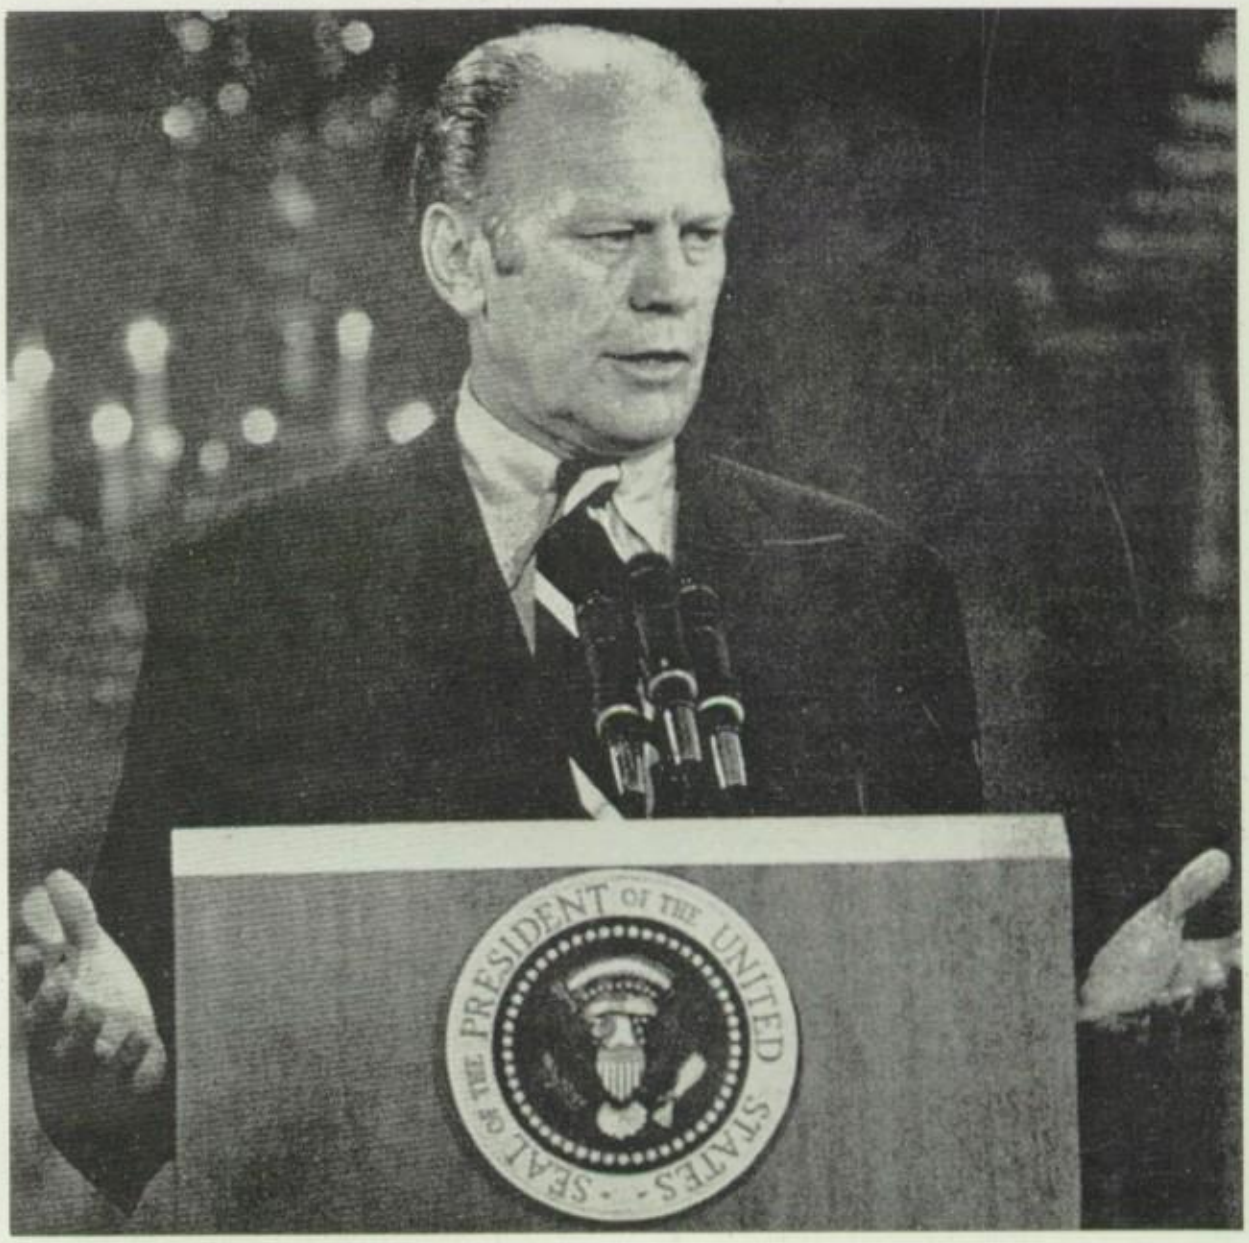


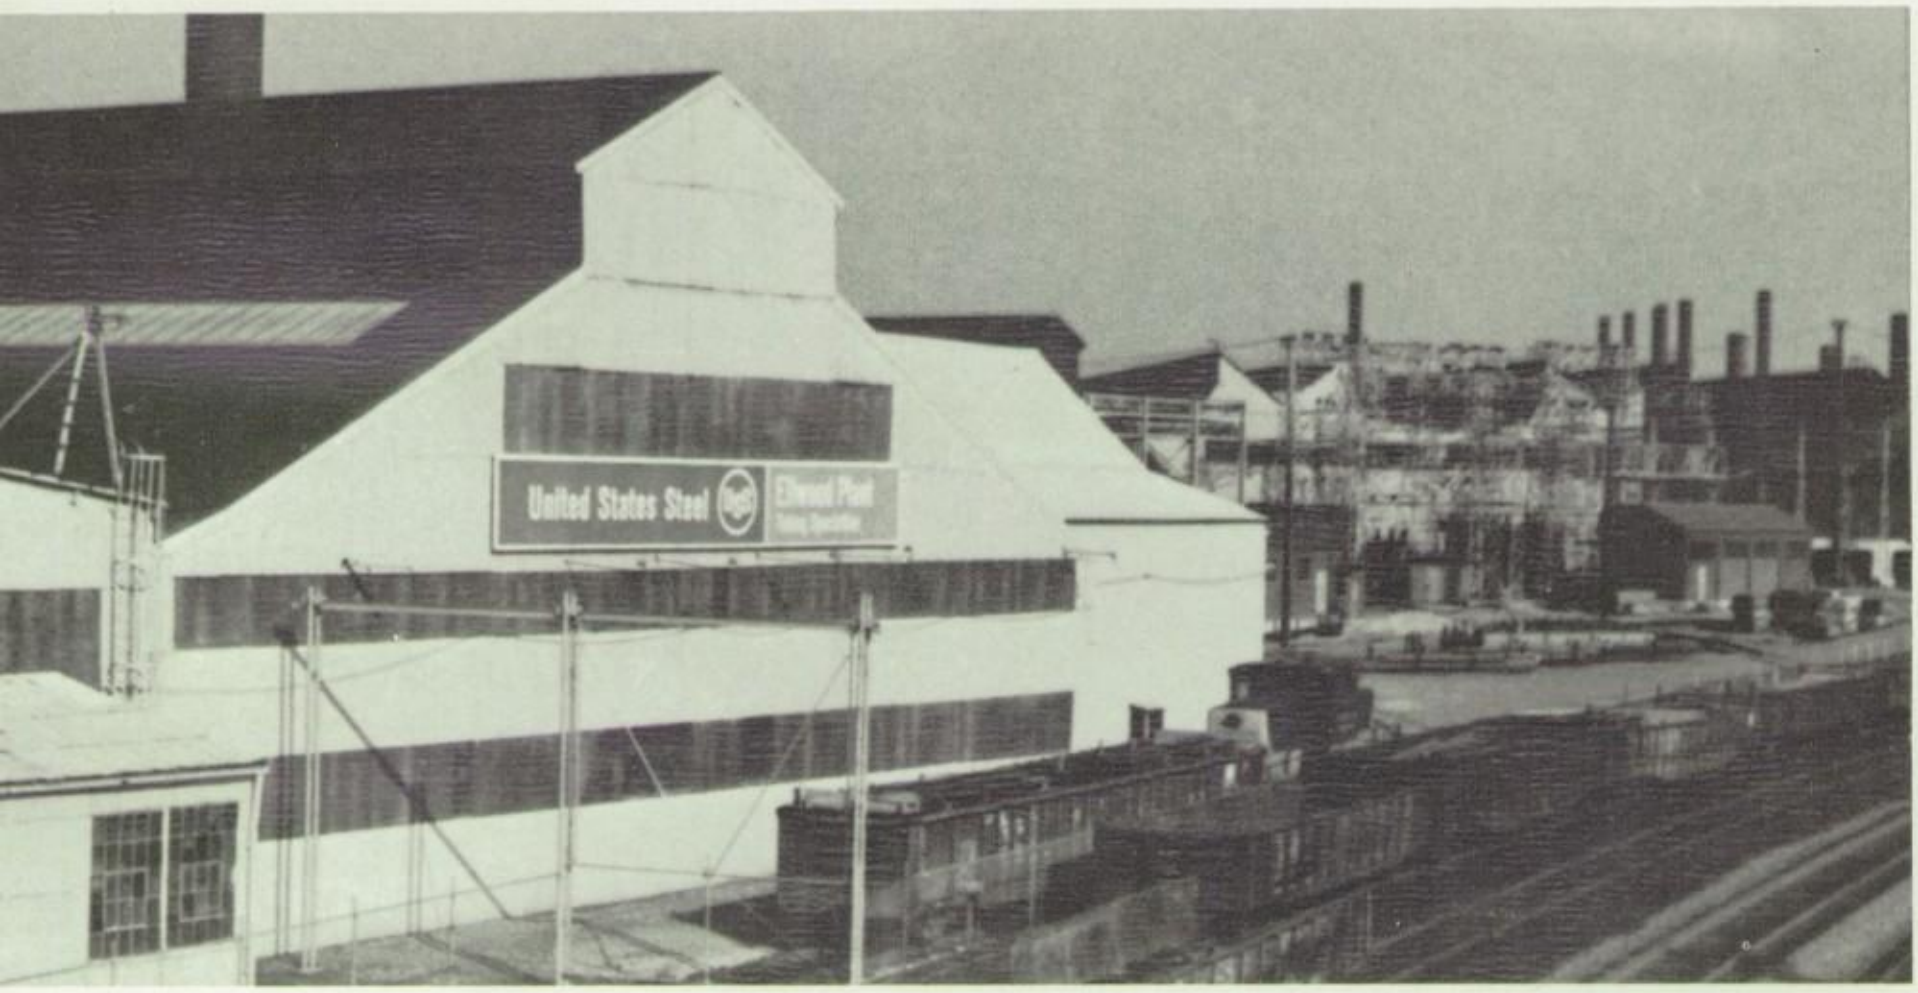


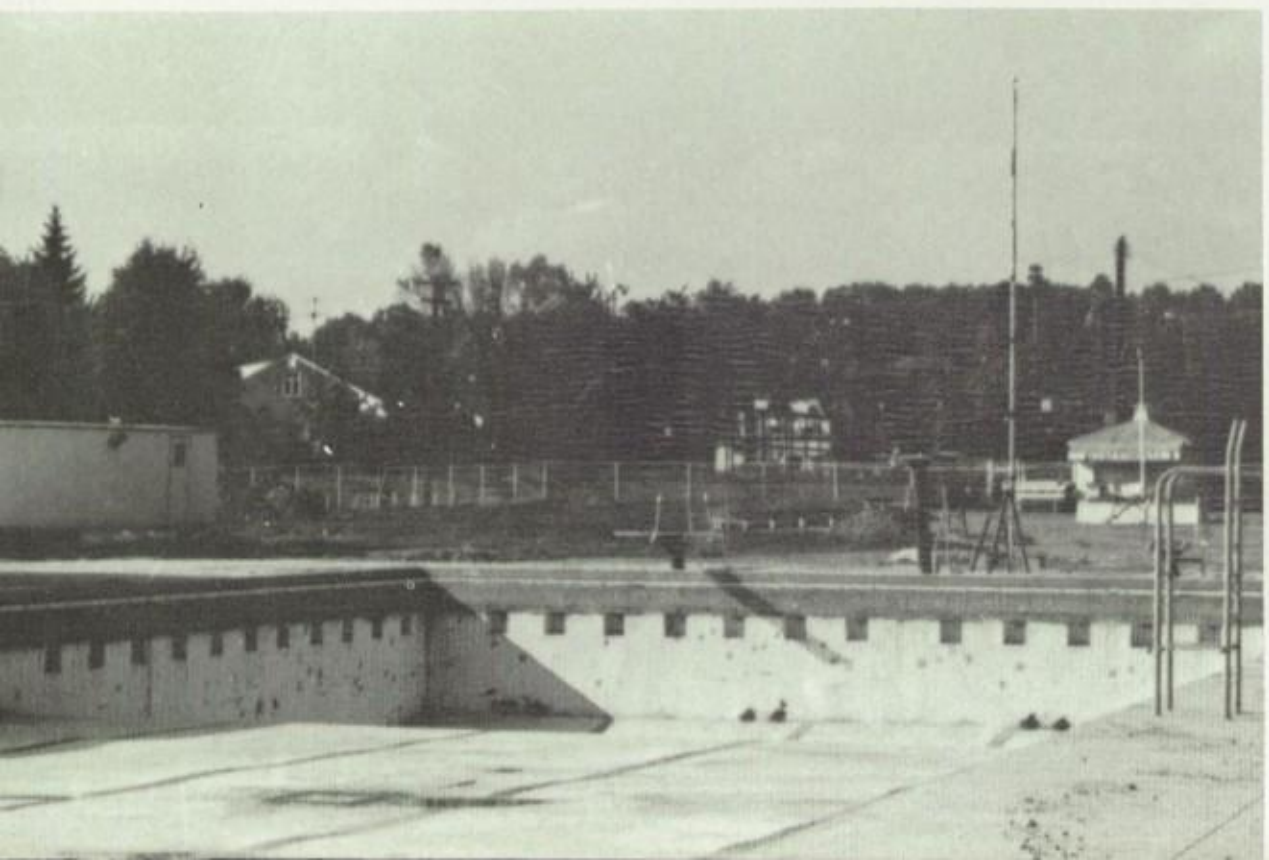


New President . . . Pressures . . . Prices . . . Problems . . . Principles . . . Progress . . .









Many changes occuried during the year 1974. On the national level, Richard M. Nixon became the first president to resign, and Gerald Ford became the first man to become president without the public vote. The Watergate scandal created much controversy, and the resignation of many respected officials. Inflation has hit the country causing people to hang on to their money, and go without many items on which prices sky rocketed.

Locally Ellwood City was informed of the moving of two major industries, U.S. Steel and Rexnord (Mathews.) The town's people accepted the news with sadness, but also with determination to make the best of the situation. On the bright side, Ellwood City now has use of Veterans Memorial Swimming pool, completely renovated. Work took all summer and continued into the winter but the finished product was worth the wait.

What are people wearing at Lincoln?

In December, Fashion officially declared the mini skirt dead; and many girls started covering their knees when school started. With the longer skirts came scarves and thin heeled shoes with open toes.

Both girls and guys are wearing hooded sweaters, farmer jeans, and the new natural shoes with soles higher than the heels.

Returning from last year are platform shoes, satin, glitter, camel-colored coats, and straight-leg pants.

A senior girl sums up fashion this year at Lincoln, "People will wear anything!"

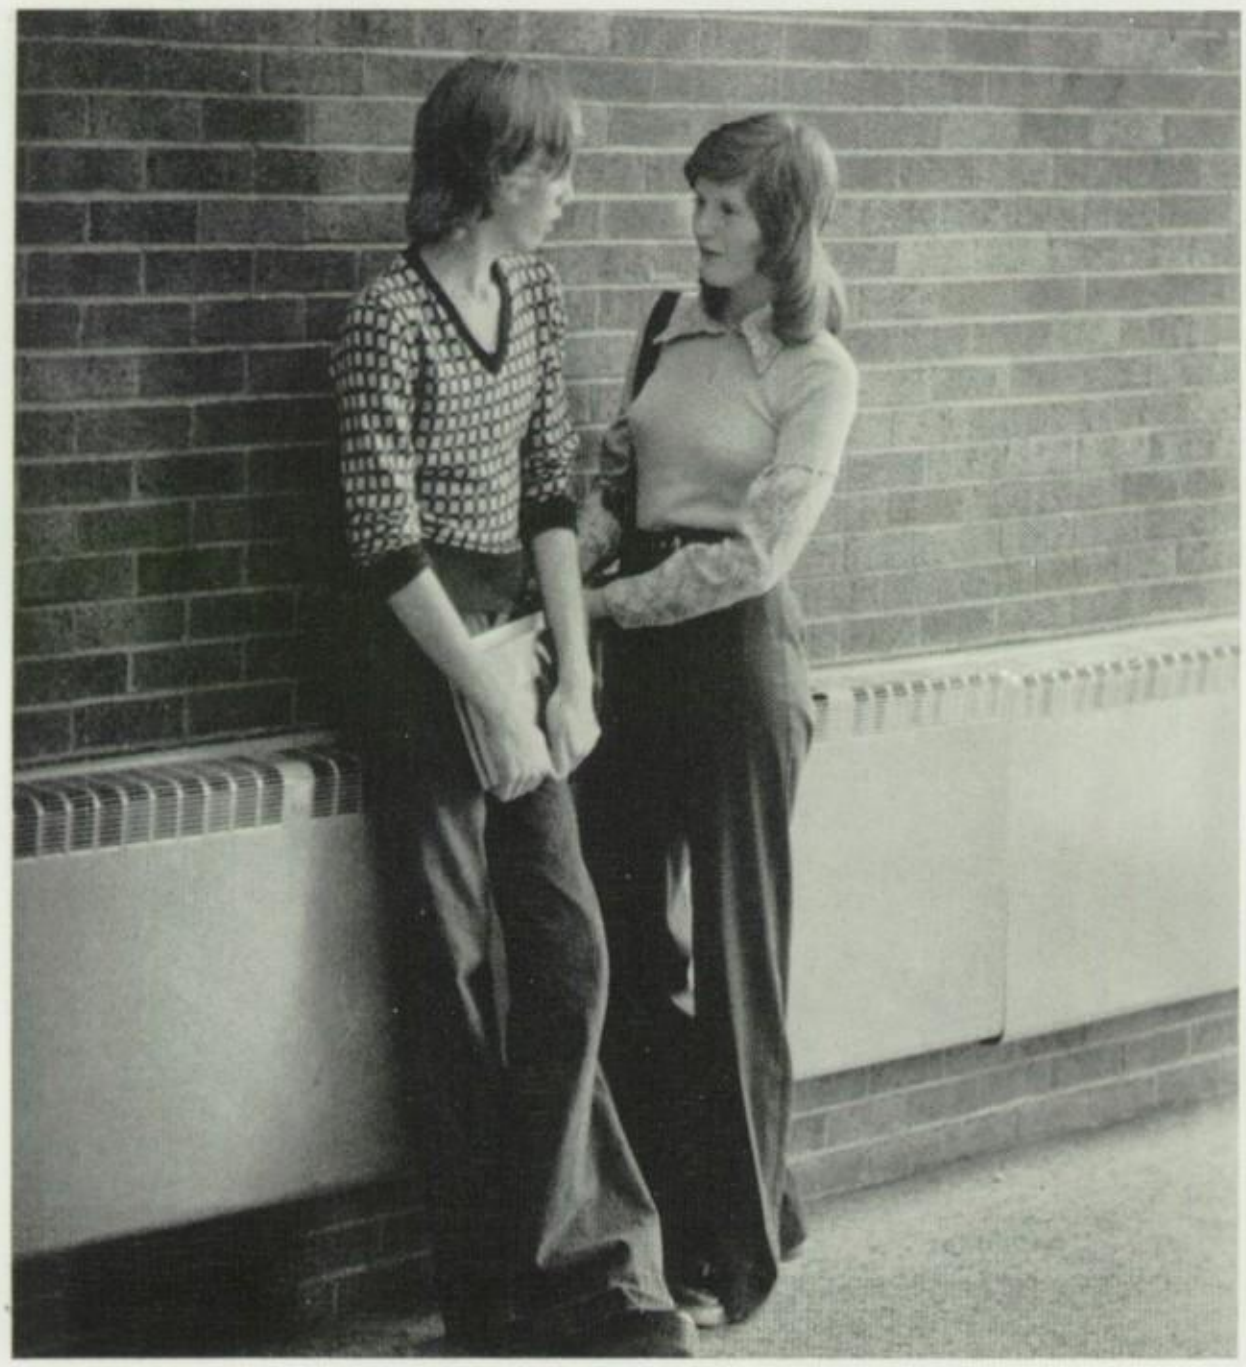
It happens here!

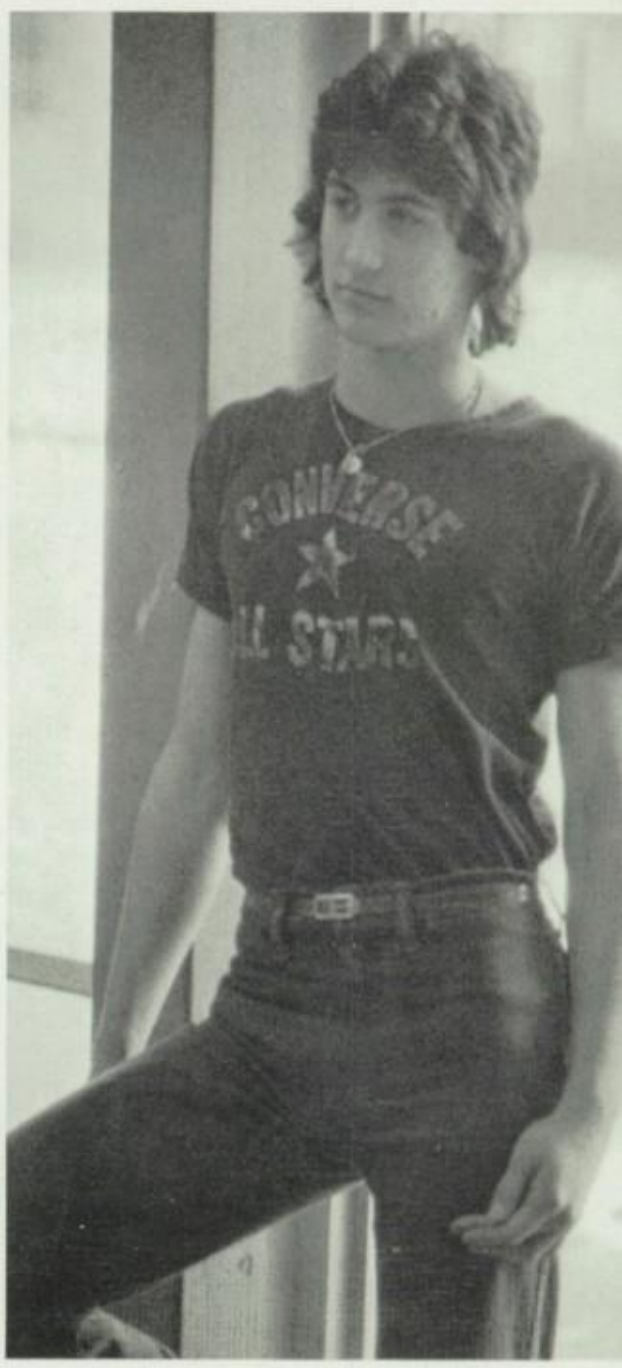
"Where are you going to be?!!

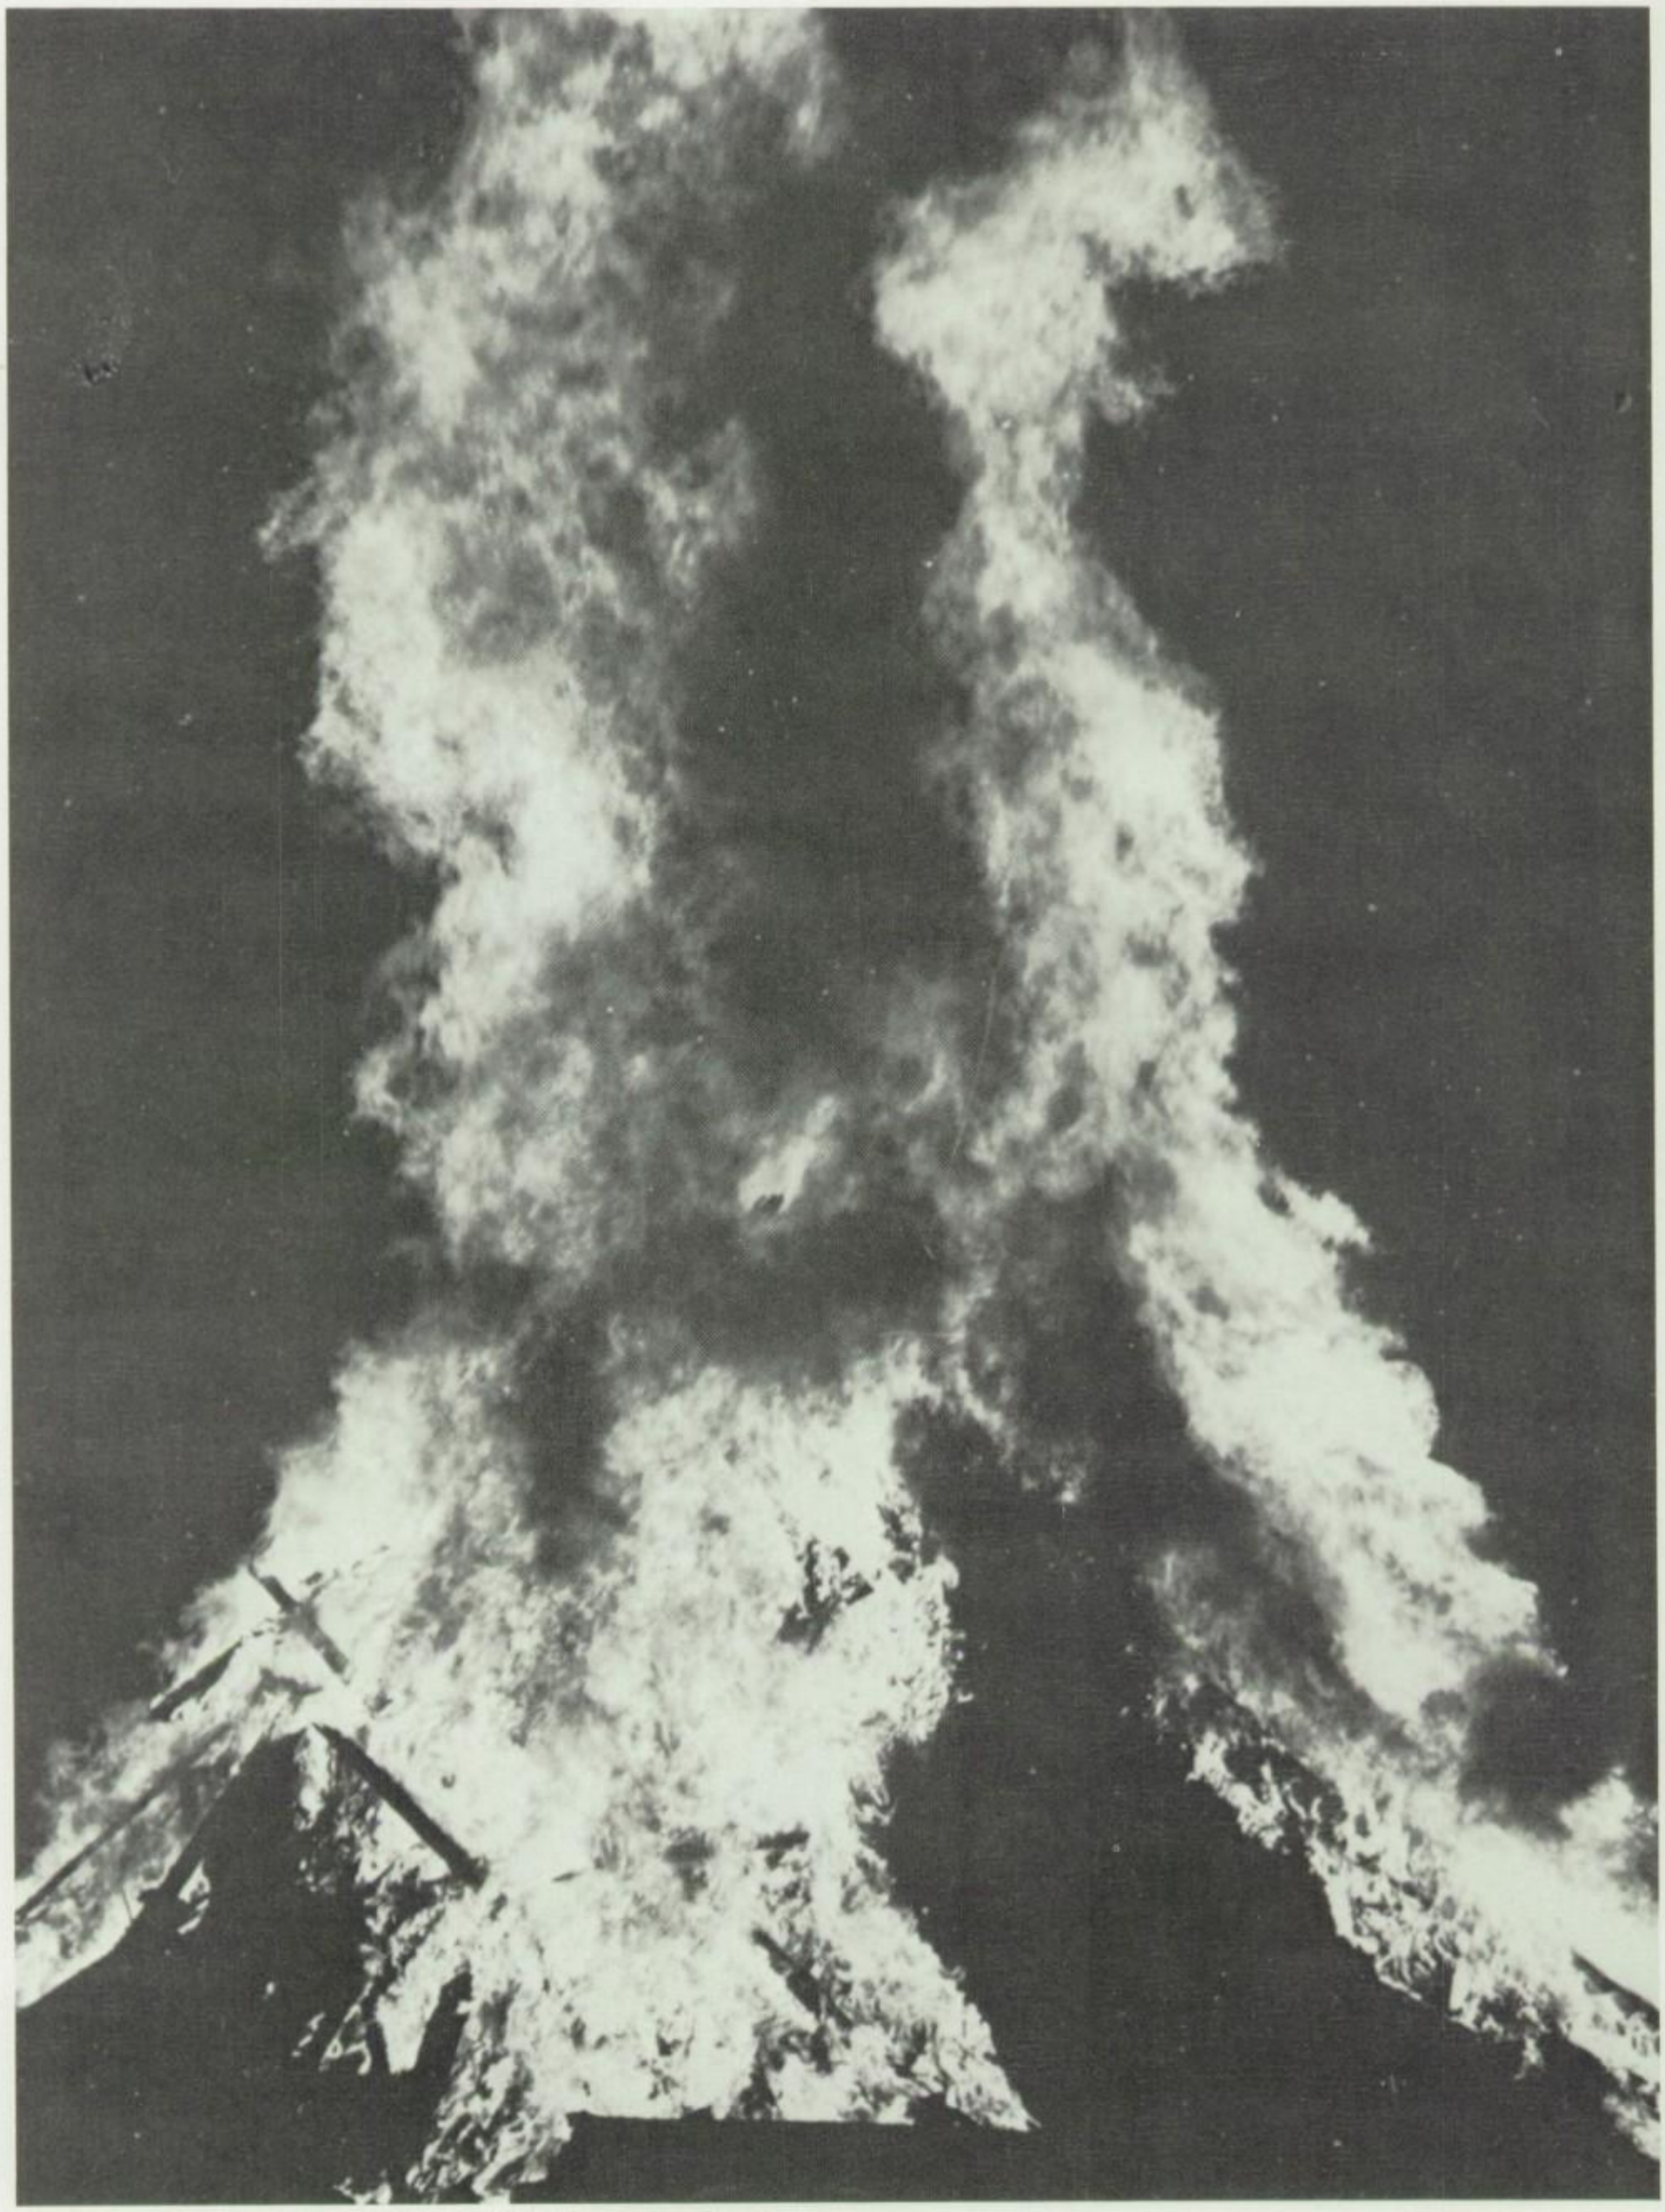
"Look for me in the commons area."

These are familiar words in the school for the commons area is the center of activity. During the lunch periods students can be found leaning against the walls, sitting on the benches, talking, standing, or just passing through. The commons area is the place for formal dances, work meetings, socializing, handicraft displays, cheering practices, club collections, and picture taking.

A more versatile area in the school can not be found. Where does it all happen in Lincoln High School? It happens in the commons area.







Seniors Go 4-0

The Senior girls of the Class of 1975 have distinguished themselves with a record of 4-0 in girls' sports. In 1970, when the seniors were in eighth grade, they defeated the freshman in basketball. As freshman in 1971, the class of 1975 came up with another victory. In 1973, the girls attempted a new sport — football. After several weeks of practice, these girls walked on to the field to walk off with a victory. This year, the Seniors of 1975 continued their previous winning ability. The senior girls out-played the junior girls to a score of 26-6. The girls of the Class of 1975 were fortunate to have Vince Mercuri, and Joe DiLeonardo as outstanding coaches all four years. Congratulations to the Seniors and good luck to the girls in upcoming classes.

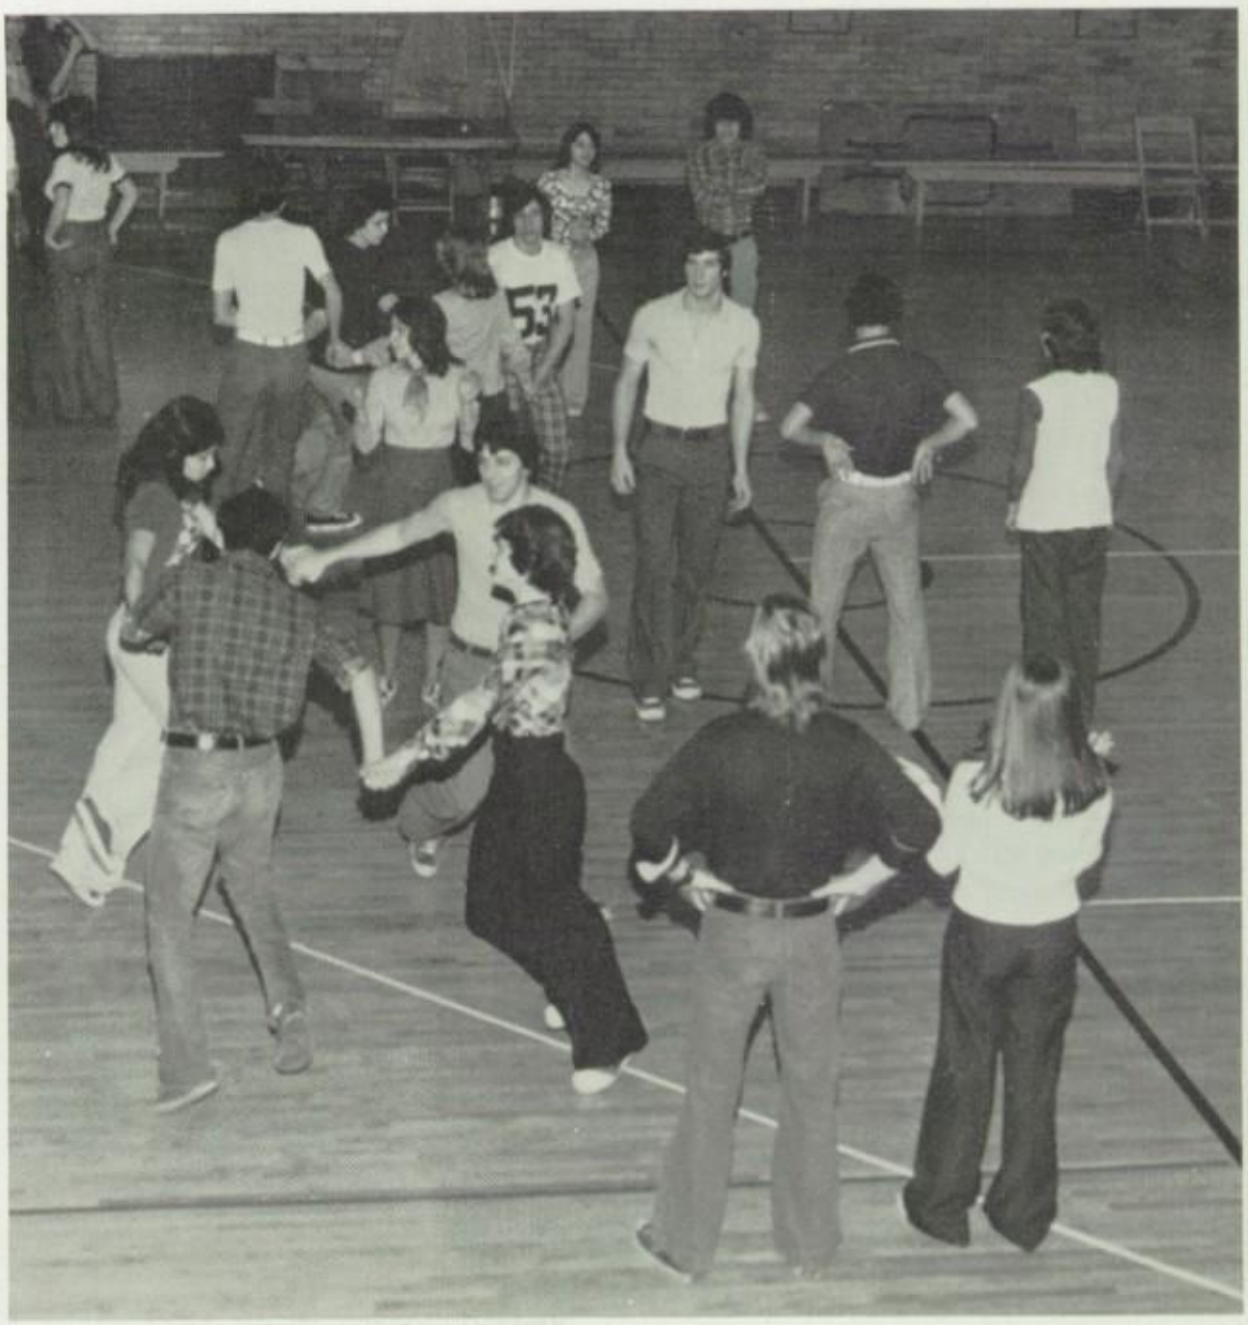
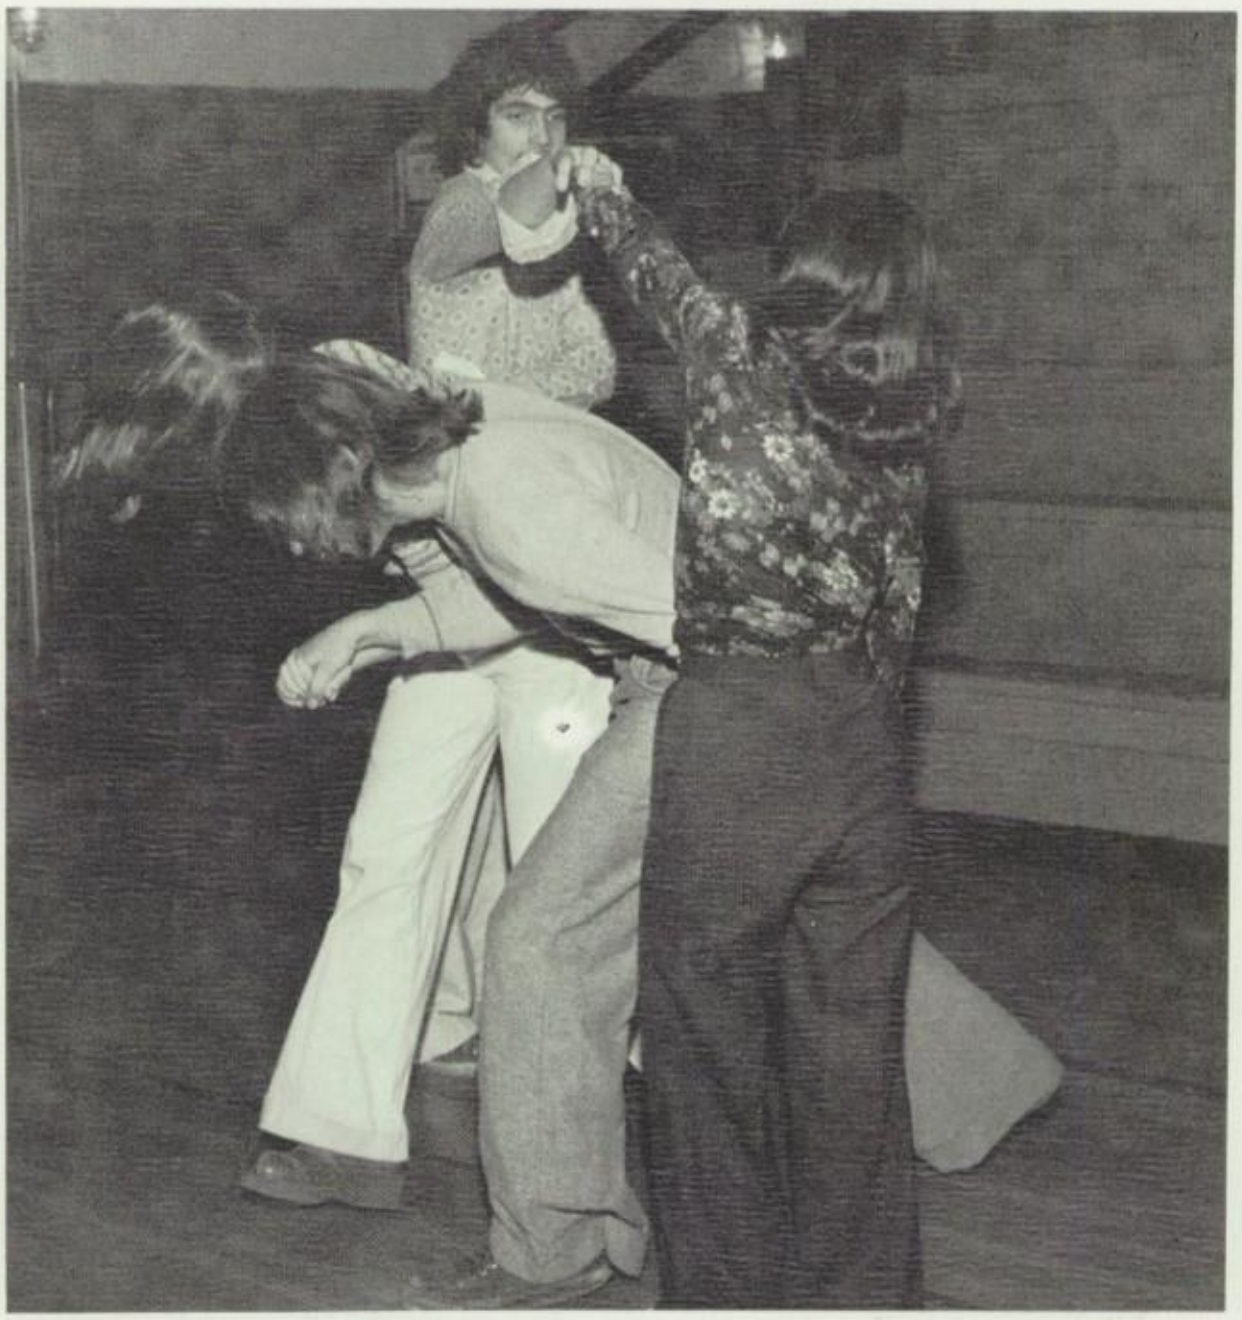
Two new sports came into view for Lincoln High School this year, girls' basketball and girls' gymnastics. These sports have attained much enthusiasm not only from the participants, but also from viewers. The teams have done considerably well this year despite their lack of experience.

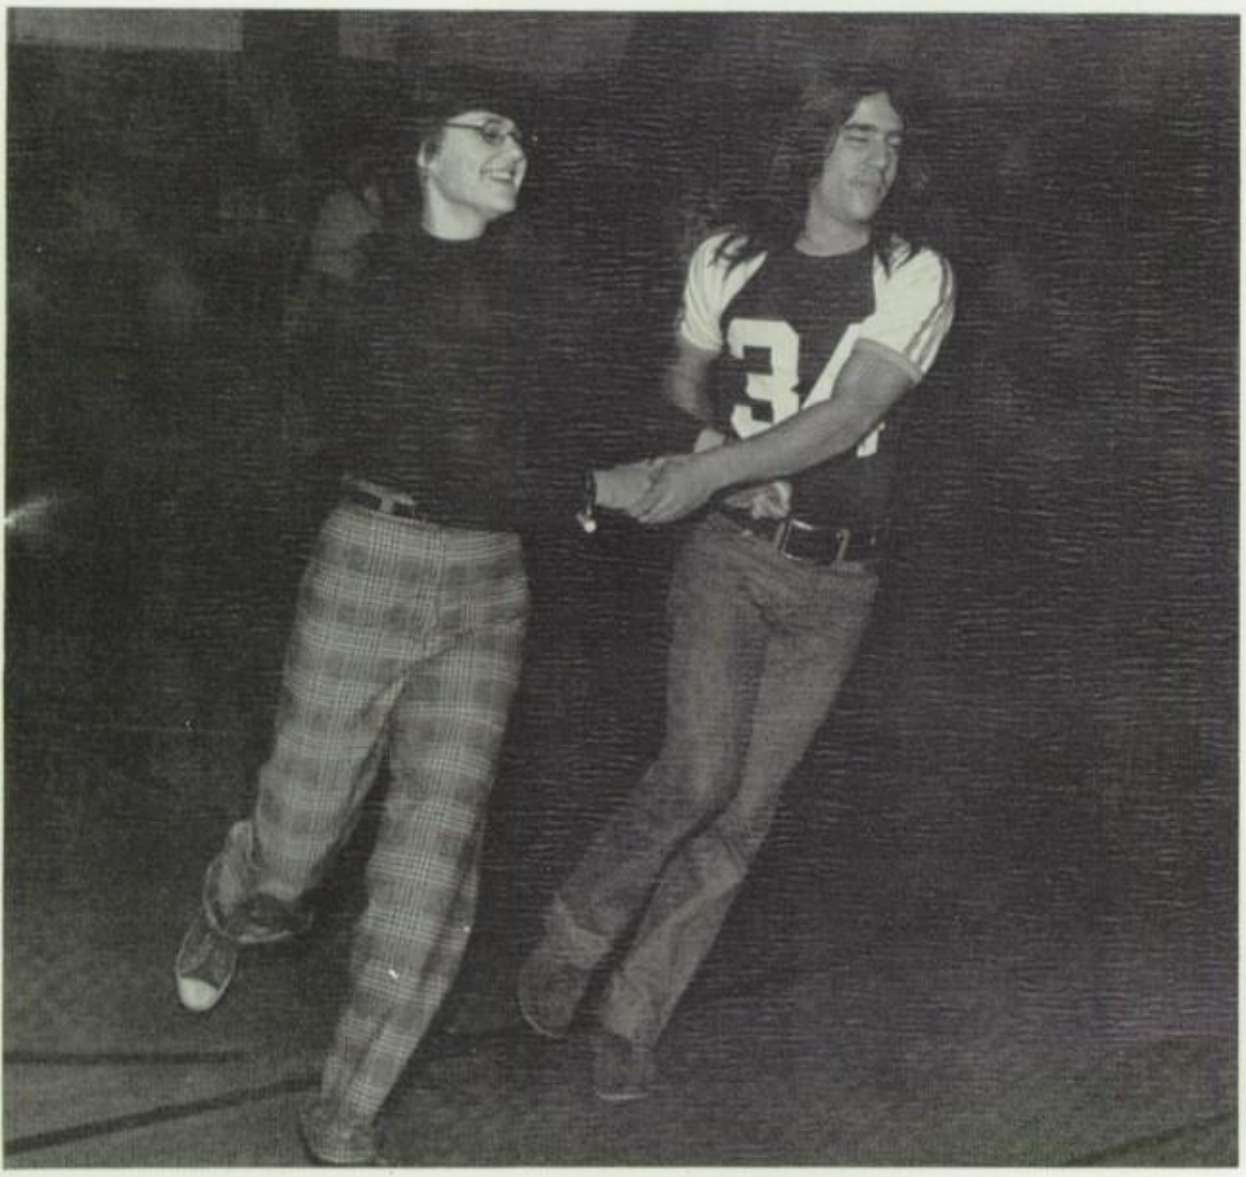
The basketball team is composed of twenty vigorous girls, coached by Mr. William Canterna and Mrs. Cheryl Lumley. They had an excellent showing in the 1974 Christmas Tournament, bringing home a first place trophie.

Miss Gail (Cookie) Freidoff performs the duties of Lincoln High's gymnastic coach. Under her direction are thirteen hard working girls, who have greatly improved their skills this year.



Swing your partner!





Who are you?

Seniors paraded the halls on February 14, but not in their usual attire. Instead, they were dressed as their nickname, favorite storybook, or nursery rhyme character. The occasion was neither a commemoration to Saint Valentine for creating "the day of love," nor a late celebration of Halloween. Rather, it was a day of uncanny stares, lots of laughter, imitation of favorite characters, and empty "senior" classrooms . . . SENIOR DAY.

Come along for a . . .

Magical Mystery Tour provided a magical excursion through a land of parks and carnivals, strawberry fields, penny lane, and an elegant ballroom. The class of 1975 brought to life the Beatle's album as the theme for their prom. How the juniors could create such fantastic decorations on their own was a mystery. After many long months of work, under the leadership of Paul DeLoia and Tish Sewall, the juniors put together their prom, held on May 18, 1974. Dark Horse provided the music for dancing and listening enjoyment. The couples were introduced in the new gym and walked through the decorated school to the dancing in the old gym. The night will always be a magical memory for all those who attended.

Come together

Participation in Spirit Week and the McGuire Home Collection showed the dedication of the student body of our school. Spirit Week was an experiment by Student Council to arouse more enthusiasm for school sports. During the week students put up signs, acted out skits, played games and crowned an athlete of the day. The week turned out to be a success and everyone had more school spirit. The Senior class headed the collection for McGuire Home in December. Between the classes and the teachers the school donated $532.47 to brighten Christmas for the special children there. Lincoln High School has great students who work together.

VISITORS

The Band Beats

Starting in August the Blue Band participants dragged themselves to band camp to undergo calisthenics, laps, and long hours. For a break during camp, the band traveled to Kennywood Park to participate in the annual Band Day. Feeling slightly ill from uncountable trips to the "Thunderbolt" the group ended a long day. Practicing on Tuesday and Thursday nights, the band worked on a total of four halftime shows. To end this exciting year in the band, the Band Banquet was held on December 5 with earned awards being distributed. The Lincoln High Blue Band has successfully completed another year.

Dynamite Drills

The Lincoln High Drill Team consists of three different groups: rifle team, flag team, and color guard. The rifle team uses miniture rifles which they throw, twirl and spin. They do everything with them but shoot them. Flag team twirls their flags in unison to complete a difficult routine that takes may hours of practice. And finally, color guard. They lead the band in parades, but they also perform routines during halftime ceremonies. The drill team is a great part of the Lincoln High Blue Band and an ever greater part of Lincoln High School.

Trying Twirlers

The 1974-75 majorettes have added expert twirling and performed skillful routines through out the year. Some of their special events were when they were featured for Senior Show and when they twirled fire during a home game. The routines are highlighted by the new feature twirler. Many routines were learned when the majorettes went to the National Majorette Clinic over the summer. A second place trophy was won for originallity and many ribbons were also won. The majorettes add bright spirit and colorful routines to head the Blue Band. These majorettes have worked hard and one can tell this when they perform.

The Jazziest Junior

High Band

The great abundance of Junior High Band members adds to the quality of the music department. Future bands will have to work very hard to surpass the expectations of this year's Junior High Band. The pep band works hard to get the student body more involved at pep rallies, while the marching band adds to local parades and Junior High Football games! The Freshman members of the Junior High Band are leaders of the Junior Band as well as active participants in the Blue Band. The Junior High Band worked hard to achieve the praise that they have gotten throughout the year.

Senior voices

unite to sing

Concert Choir is a select group, that one can join only by trying out. This choir travels to different parts of the state and has even performed in Washington, D. C. at Christmas. An even more select group from the Concert Choir are the Choral Capers. Members of the Choral Capers are also members in Concert Choir so the Choral Capers have to be skilled and also work very hard to memorize twice as many songs and parts. These two groups sing a variety of selections including rock, oldies, classical, and even the very latest in music. Concert Choir and Choral Capers add a great deal to the Choral Department.

Senior Mixed Choir consisted of sopranos, altos, and basses. These students got together daily to learn and perfect the music they presented at the winter and spring concerts. They performed touches of rock, soul, folk, and classical music with a sense of pride, knowing they had achieved perfection.

If you walked into the choir room during their third period, you would have stumbled upon a large assortment of students, all individuals. Yet they had one thing in common — an interest in music. This interest brought them together to form one talented group, the Senior Mixed Choir.

Senior girls

gather together

The Senior Girls' Chorale, consisting of all the girls in the senior high choirs, brighten up the choral department. During the Christmas concert, they wore pants and sweaters; scarves and hats; and mittens and smiles, this made a lovely sight on the brightly lit stage. Singing songs from past to present and enjoying every minute of it, the Senior Girls made their debut. With a feeling of pride, this large girls choir, which never at one time rehearsed together, put forth a great effort to perfect their songs. Under the expert direction of Mrs. Ialongo, the girls really made their songs live.

Vast numbers make

Junior High

A multitude of voices have come together this year to form the Junior High Choirs. Under the direction of Miss Pertile, the choirs performed a selection of numbers at the winter concert and spring concert.

"Anticipation", a select group of vocalist, was organized this year. Participation in "Anticitpation" gives the members a chance to work in smaller groups.

Another new group is the Junior Girls, consisting of girls from all of the Junior High Choirs. They enjoyed singing a variety of different classes of music.

Future artists

seek creativity

Art Club began the year with the traditional initiation. Future members were tortured and humiliated to wear the chains of slavery.

The annual task of painting windows transformed downtown Ellwood City into Count Dracula's haunted house. The "artists to be" then shifted the scene of common yellow fire hydrants to knee-high men ready and waiting for a fire.

Art Club has had a successful year and has brought pleasure to many through their activities.

Bowlers strive for top average

As a member of Bowling Club each person devotes his Saturday morning sleeping time to prove the old adage, "Practice makes perfect." Each Saturday the individual teams get together to compete against each other just for the satisfaction of winning. This year the Lincoln Bowlers won eight trophies in the Jaycees tournament. Trophies are also awarded at the end of each year to those who reach a high standard of excellence.

As the sponsor, Mr. Boschini, teaches the bowlers better bowling techniques.

Business girls

use time wisely

Business club, consisting of some of Lincoln High school's future secretaries, participated in various activities during the year. Parties, a Thanksgiving tureen dinner, and making Christmas favors kept the girls busy. Also money making projects were held to help pay for the girl's jackets.

The highlight of the year was to honor the secretaries employed by the school. They accomplished this by organizing a tea during the National secretary week.

Cheerleaders:

backbone of team support

With hopes of someday being a varsity cheerleader, the Junior High squad worked very hard to better their cheering abilities. Mrs. Cummings, their sponsor, was always there to guide them through the beginning years of cheering.

Making tags, posters, and planning effective pep rallies were some of the important duties that the girls performed.

Wolverine Pride

What is the main purpose of the Varsity cheering squad? This year the cheerleaders surely answered this by bringing some of the long gone spirit back to Lincoln High School.

Their duties included making posters, making tags, and planning buses for the away games. The most important of these duties was planning a successful pep rally. Their songs and skits proved to the students and team that they were behind the team all the way, whether we won or lost.

Lincoln students "twist" the night away

Dance Club created a casual atmosphere for the students. Each weekend, Dance Club organized a meeting place for good times and good music. Various dances were held, including a sock hop which the students participated in enthusiastically. On December 21, 1974, Dance Club held the annual alumni Christmas dance featuring Bobby Harper. The dance was successful and served as a nice change of pace. Then, of course, there were regular dances with Spinnin' (Rudy) Spiel who all the students enjoyed.

Debaters voice their opinions

With Mrs. Saunders' leadership, the club particpates in may debates throughout the school year. Members give up their Saturdays to debate against other schools.

When thinking of the speech and debate club, naturally we think of just debating. Actually the club does other activities. They engage in speech events which includes extemporaneous speech, impromptu speech, and original oratory. Also they take part in student congresses.

Staff works toward goal: the Echo

The 1974-75 Echo staff consisted of nine members. The newspaper endeavored to present the high-lights of the schools activities. The staff, advised by Mr. Ialongo planned to publish seven issues before the end of the school year. They also organized the "Senior Class Will" with the help of the students and homeroom teachers.

The format consisted of "Question of the Month" and "The Way I See It," the latter written by different members of the staff.

The new feature of the Echo was the cartoon "Line-Ken". This character illustrated issues concerning the school and some probable solutions.

Hollerman's "men"

do it again!

The Hi-Y Club, the most active club of its kind in the state, is a credit to Lincoln High School. With Mr. Hollerman, the men put in endless hours of work last year. The club had many traditional activities which included the refreshment stands at football and basketball games, the March of Dimes walk-a-thon, and serving Christmas cookies and coffee to downtown shoppers. Also during the lunch periods the Hi-Y Club maintained hall patrol.

A new club was formed by the members of the HI-Y organization. They created the Ushers Club which only Hi-Y members could join.

At the first meeting of the Tri-Hi-Y Club, the officers announced to the newly inducted members and senior members that they were joining the Federation of Tri-Hi-Y Clubs. Tri-Hi-Y is in existence mostly to service the community, and planned many activities for the year. Included in these are collecting for UNICEF, providing cookies and coffee to Christmas shoppers, working at basketball games, and the Valentine's Dance. Homemakers form new club Future Homemakers of America was the newest club at Lincoln this past year. The club consisted of approximately sixty members who ranged from freshmen to seniors. The members had a Christmas tureen dinner and a Mother-Daughter Banquet held in the spring.

As a money making project, the club made hard tack candy and sold it to friends and neighbors. F.H.A. plans to make this project an annual event. As a service to the school and other organizations, the club catered banquets. With the help of Mrs. Gorgas and Mrs. Rape, the club proved to be very active during it first year.

Pieces of April, a Y-Teens memory

"Pieces of April" was this year's theme of the annual semi-formal dance. The halls buzzed with anticipation as the girls chose their dates. Evening work meetings were held in preparation of making this dance a special memory for all who attended.

The girls stayed busy during this school year under the leadership of Miss Friedhoff. Making favors for the hospital and collecting donations for multiple sclerosis were a few of the community activities. For the yearly projects, the club sponsored a child in India and a grandmother at Crescent Place. Also, money making projects were held throughout the year.

Meetings on Monday night often were highlighted by guest speakers.

Performance must precede volition

This year Junior Dramatics presented the successful comedy "Brother Goose." The leads were protrayed by Doug Moser, Diane Boyle, and Becky Kimple. The audience enjoyed the production and expressed their appreciation by giving a standing ovation.

Two things were necessary in making Brother Goose the big success that it was. Determination and practice were the two key words. First, the cast had to have the will to make this play the very best. Second, the cast had to work together at practices to make perfect an already well-written play.

To end the year, the club went on a field trip to Kenly Playhouse to see a professional performance.

All the world is a stage . . .

Senior Dramatics had an active year. Initiation of new members showed a lot of new talent for the club. The play chosen was a three-act comedy called "Pillow Talk." It featured a young lady who despises the man on the other end of her party line. When she meets him under different circumstances she falls in love. It was very entertaining and the audience gave a hearty standing ovation. The club traveled to Kenley Theatre at the end of the year to view a professional performance as a reward for their active participation.

The "key" is participation!

The Key Club of Lincoln High proved to be worthy of their name. They successfully opened one closed door, school spirit. Assisted by Hi-Y, they fired up the school spirit at the annual NECA bon-fire. At half-time at basketball games, the members were in the key position holding the ropes. Needing the cheerful tone of the Key Club members, they sold peanuts for the Kiawanis. They worked hard this year for their one main goal-opening their door at the convention.

Mr. Spellman, Sponsor, started the year out, but was unable to finish. Mr. Brown filled in for Mr. Spellman.

Athletes get it together!

Only outstanding athletics are asked to become members of the Varsity Club. The requirements were to have lettered in one sport and to have participated in another. This was the first year that girl athletics were asked to be members.

Under the leadership of Mr. Geniviva, the club organized the annual Powder Puff game. They supplied the cheerleaders plus a short football game during halftime between the freshman and sophomores. This year's varsity club ended its year with many accomplishments.

Determination

guides members

Collecting food for the needy was only one of the projects of Lincoln's Junior High Student Council. Especially around Christmas, the spirit of the Junior High Student Council was indefatigable. Along with the collection of food, they also decorated Crescent Place for the holidays.

They aided the school by cleaning the trophy cases that enhance the halls. Also scheduled was a basketball game between the eighth and ninth grade girls. Their activities illistrate what can be accomplished with determination and pride. The leadership shown in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade predicts a hopeful future for Lincoln High School.

Ask yourself: can this be done better?

Did you ever think of what Lincoln would do without the National Honor Society? Who would sell the famous candy apples and the world wide loved sno-cones at the football games? We would also have to ask would there be AFS student at Lincoln High School? Who would donate time to tutor student or run errands for the office?

Keeping the club members busy were Miss Calhoun and Miss Freidhoff's favorite occupation. Those that had the opportunity to join the club often wondered, "Is it worth all the work?" But the members now look back and realize their reward was great with the happy memories of working together.

"Permission to come aboard sir," and many other military phrases were every day language for the NJROTC students. Besides having morning exercises during homeroom period the students have a class in which they study all aspects of Navy life.

NJROTC is only in its second year, and it is busier than most activities in this school. Bake sales, a spaghetti dinner and a military ball made jumping on a plane and heading South toward Florida possible. Lt. Hiser and Chief Channel successfully arranged for the rifle and drill teams to compete against other schools' ROTC. The dedicated girls of the Pennsylvania Youth Education Association devote their study hall time to aid teachers in Lincoln and Hartman. This gives the girls experience for their future occupation as teachers.

The club kept active with projects and began a new successful project this year. Every month the girls chose a "Teacher of the Month." They presented the winner with either a corsage or a boutonniere. As a yearly project, the girls maintained the main consession stand at football games. SPORTS

The Ellwood City Wolverines opened the '74 season with a heartbreaker, a thirteen inning battle with Hopewell winning 3-2.

The wolverines played tough ball throughout the entire season with the forceful, powerful hitting of senior Ted Zikeli. Also enforcing the battery was junior Larry Fazioli. It took the Wolverines three games to warm up before they knocked off New Castle 12-8. They won three more before losing to Beaver Falls 1-0 in eight innings. But they bounced right back by defeating Hopewell 6-2.

Ellwood ended up its season with 6 wins and 8 losses. They played good ball, but just couldn't get it together. Perhaps the '75 season will be different.

Coaches Smeltz and "Bart" look on with watchful eyes.

Striving for a victory but relenquishing [illegible]at the Lincoln High Football squad fought their way through a tough season. Injuries hampered the team greatly as first team quarterback Mike DeLisio and halfback Larry Fazioli were out of action for part of the season. It seemed as if someone above was working against the Wolverines. The players and coaches all gave 110% but still could not put enough points on the board to catch the elusive victories. The hard running and passing of the squad could not cope with the larger schools in the M.A.C. The team did provide many exciting mements in the season such as their close losses to Blackhawk and Hopewell. This being the teams last year in the Middle Athletic Conference it is believed that Ellwood City will become in the years ahead the dominant football power as it was in the years past.

Harriers — The Leaders of the Pack

An inexperienced cross-country squad finished up with a record this year. Mark Wojtkiewicz and Jim Clave were the nucleus of the team. Some of the upcoming stars are Scott Mullin, Bob Lucarelli, and Jeff Berendt. Many girls also participated in the competition this year. They are: Doris Venezie, Midge Gwin, Udora Orock, and Jane Brooks. The team is coached capably by Mr. James Irwin.

The 1974-75 Rifle team shot up their section under the leadership of Mr. Dewey Minteer. Team captains were Jim McCowan and "Oakie" Polivino. The team spent long hard hours practicing for the much anticipated season. They enjoyed the frequent use of the Wampum Rod and Gun Club.

This year the rifle team had several girls on their team who participated in interscholastic team matches. The rifle team ended up with a winning season because of their devoted and hard work, but these qualities will make a winner in anyone.

The seventh grade basketball team, led by Mr. Robert Timmerman, turned in a good season. Hard practice and determination proved an excellent factor in helping them to obtain their good season.

Mr. Amos Mazzant, head coach of the eighth grade basketball team, worked his team to make a winner in the future.

The Freshmen, who were led by Mr. Phil Wimer, turned in a fine performance this year. The season's highlight was the Sharon game when Ellwood came from behind in the last seconds to overcome the Sharon Tigers.

With two 60's stuck on the scoreboard
And two seconds hanging on the clock,
The solemn girl in the center of eyes,
Squeezed by silence,
Seeks out the line with her feet,
Soothes her hands along her uniform,
Gently drums the ball against the floor,
Then measures the waiting net,
Raises the ball on her right hand,
Balances with her left,
Calms it with her fingertips,
Breathes, Crouches, Waits,
And then through a stretching of still-mess
Nudges it upward
The ball, slides up and out
Lands, leans,
Wobbles, weavers,
Hesitates, Exasperates,
Plays it coy,
Until every face begs with unsouring screams
And then
And then
And then
Right before ROAR-UP
Dives down and . . . . . through.

Sophomores climb their ladder

Under the leadership of the class sponsors, Miss Pertile and Mr. Cirelli, sophomores raised $3817.70 during their candy sale. Tom Kline was high salesman with $197. The reward for their efforts was a party that united their class for the upcoming Junior year. A class full of life, Sophomores are growing into the building blocks of Lincoln High School. They are gradually reaching the point in their lives when they will begin to think about their goals in life.

Juniors achieve great heights

Participation in many activities created the togetherness of the Junior Class. The Junior girls played a rough, muddy game at the Powder Puff, but to no avail. Joan Pegg scored their only touchdown as they lost 26-6. The Juniors worked hard on their candy sale to make the Prom a very special event. The extra hours the Juniors put into the Prom was much appreciated on the night of May 23, 1975. They now continue on their way to fill the place left by the Class of '75.

SENIORS

Seniors strive toward harmony

Just as a song is comprised of individual notes, the Senior class is of individual people. Together we create a song that is as new as tomorrow and as old as yesterday. We conduct ourselves to the music. Each class is a different tune, and the song for 1975 is beautiful.

We've tomorrow bright before us like a flame.

Today we think of tomorrow,
Tomorrow we think of today.
Our lives seem to pass too quickly,
For the things we wish to say.
But as our future approaches,
We face it with joy and fear.
We have so many expectations,
Of the times that are drawing near.

And yet the past holds so many things
We do not wish to forget.
Friends that we love, things that we've done,
And all that hasn't come yet.
These memories are a part of our lives.
It will always be the same:
Yesterday gone, we have only tomorrow
"Bright before us like a flame."

"57" to "75": You've come a long way, baby!

You've come a long way, baby; we all have, but we're not babies anymore. We've traveled through infancy and adolescence and have reached a point of life that is now. But what is now? It seems like the end of the road, but it's not. Looking ahead, we see the beginning of a new road — a super highway. Intersections and crossings, bypasses and sideroads make up this intricate highway, and it looms ahead endlessly. We each choose a differenct direction, a different road. At times our varied routes will cross, as they do now. We have come a long way and we've still a very long way to go.

behind; The way we were.

The way we were is young and inexperienced. But today, looking back, we see that our lives are filled with experiences. There are so many people involved in these, that we care for in some way. Whether it be love or hate, these feelings are locked in our emotions. They can be taken from storage and remembered at any time.

Our minds are complex memory banks, storing the information of a lifetime. Everything that we have ever done is recorded there. It is our memory. Look back to what is there. The first day of kindergarden, that time you were the star of the third grade play when your parents were so proud, your first date, and now, your graduation. It is something to remember, the way we were.

Dedication

The 1975 Elwoodian dedicates this book to one of Lincoln's most admired teachers, Mrs. Beatrice Myers. Her philosophy and enjoyment of life will always be remembered by each person who came to know her. Mrs. Myers taught English for 17½ years in the Ellwood City School District starting in the Hartman School with seventh graders for two years. The last ten years were spent teaching mostly college preparatory English to juniors and seniors. Mrs. Myers was active in church and community affairs. She is past matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, P.W.H.P. of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, and a P.R.M. of the Order of Amaranth. She organized Rainbow Assemblies, acted as Mother Advisor, was a Deputy and a State Executive of the Order of Rainbow for Girls. She presided at Grand Assemblies as Mother advisor for eight years and was a general chairman for Grand Assembly held at Penn State University. Traveling with the Council on International Relations of Topeka, Kansas, Mrs. Myers and her husband had the privilege of meeting Prime Minister Indira Ghandi in New Delhi and Vice President C. K. Yen of the Republic of China. Those whom she met — Shinto Priests, Christian missionaries, educators in various parts of the world, newspaper editors and journalists, U. S. Embassy officials and plain, ordinary people — were probably just as impressed by this adventurous lady as she was by them. Her concern for students was overwhelming and sincere. Both students and faculty wish Mrs. Myers the best of luck in the coming years. We will always hold this dear lady close to our hearts.

Education is only a beginning

The only way to have a friend is to be one.

Never look down to test the ground before taking your next step: only he who keeps his eye fixed on the far horizon will find his right road.

The staff extends appreciation to the Ellwood City Ledger and the Lincoln High Photo Club for several photographs.

Oh, Lincoln High, we're proud of you,

You're beautiful and fair and true.

We pledge our loyalty anew

To thee, Oh Lincoln High.

Oh, Lincoln High, we're proud of you,
You're beautiful and fair and true.
We pledge our loyalty anew
To thee, Oh Lincoln High.

Oh, Lincoln High, we'll love you still
When high school days are past
Your teachings and your friendship will
With us forever last.
